

Mandeville Historic Preservation District Commission

Notice of Public Hearing

Design Guidelines Project

The Mandeville Historic Preservation District Commission will hold a presentation on the development of Design Guidelines. The purpose of this project is to prepare a manual for use by property owners, designers and the Mandeville Preservation District Commission to guide appropriate rehabilitation and new construction in the District. The consulting firm of Thomason and Associates will be writing the manual for the City and will discuss the purpose and process for the project at this hearing. Property owners in the historic district are especially invited to attend.
